2 Election Night Reporting (ENR)

Increase access and transparency on and after Election Night. Scytl secure Election Night Reporting allows elections officials to display visually appealing results as a graph or a map to illustrate voter turnout, totals by vote type, and results by precinct. Providing your constituents with an interactive visually appealing method to stay informed.

Highlights Include:

- 508 ADA and WCAG AA 2.1 compliant for people with visual needs
- Multi-lingual to adhere to Section 203 of the Voting Rights Act.
- Secure, hosted in the AWS cloud in the U.S.
- No Direct Internet Connection to Tabulation Equipment
- No additional burden on County IT staff
- Mobile optimized for all smart devices
- Historical tracking of all your elections in one platform

GRAPHICAL & MAP DISPLAY

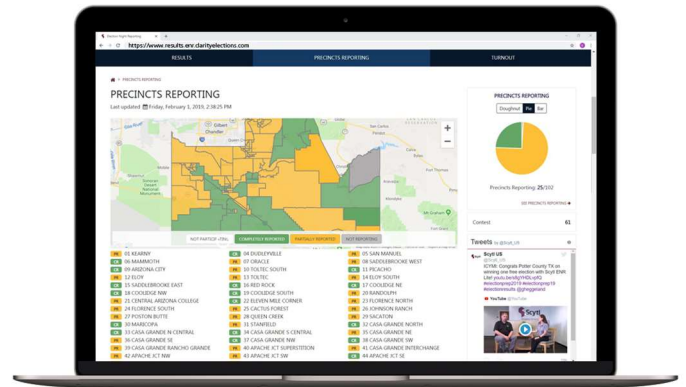

65% of adults are visual learners.

Allow your constituents to view Election Night using a graph or a map view in ENR.

- Visually highlight the vote leader
- Provide granular detail down to number of votes received, where those votes were received and votes by vote type (election day, absentee, provisional, etc.).
- Viewers can search, filter and mark their favorite races.

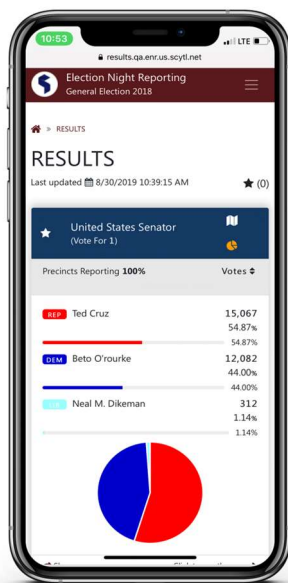

PRECINCT & VOTE CENTERS REPORTING

Display Election Day progress with status reports by precinct or vote center. Use color coded maps to show whether a precinct has begun to report, has partially reported, or has completely reported their vote count.

“I was worried that adding a new technology solution would add stress to our office, but our experience was the opposite and Scytl ENR helped to take some of the stress off our plates. After our first election...people went out of their way to tell us they found ENR more functional and useful than the old PDF results, and they hope we’ll adopt it for future elections.”

Melynn Huntley | Elections Administrator | Potter County, Texas

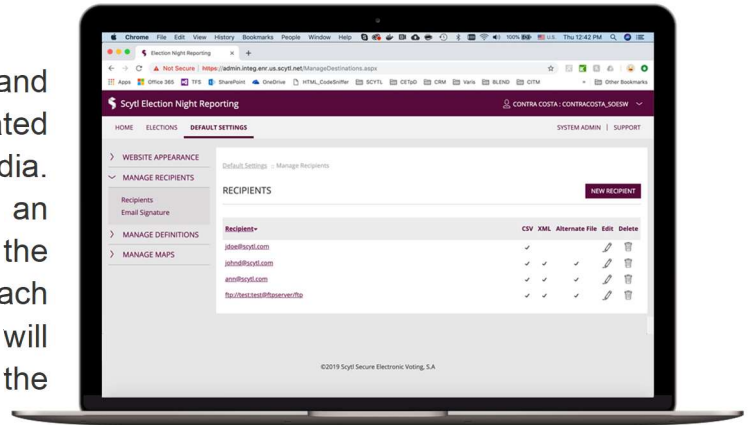

MOBILE OPTIMIZED FOR ALL DEVICES

Allow your constituents to view Election Night results from anywhere, at any time. ENR is optimized for mobile devices, with many of the desktop features available.

RECIPIENT LISTS

Reduce Election Night phone calls and stringers in your office with automated distribution lists to candidates and the media. ENR allows administrators to preload an unlimited number of recipients before the election starts. Upon completion of each results upload, these recipients will automatically receive a file containing the most up-to-date election results.

“For each election, the AP Election Research and Vote Tabulation team needs to quickly and efficiently collect accurate election data at all levels of granularity. When a state or county uses Scytl Election Night Reporting solution, the data is easy to find and understand, allowing us to share Election Night results more quickly with AP member news organizations, election subscribers and the public.”

Don Rehil | Director of Election Research and Vote Tabulation | Associated Press
